PEOPLE

NILES EAST IS PEOPLE – studying, meeting others, talking, singing together, planning, working, and living each day with hope and anticipation. The people are constantly on the move - from classes and offices to games and dances; pausing to exchange ideas with friends, to check on notes and details, to look at a display, to cheer teams on to victory. The people are the builders of the school.

PLACES

PLACES ARE ESSENTIAL for the people need to study, to play, to be entertained, to learn, and to express themselves. Niles East has recently added new facilities to satisfy the needs of its people. The new auditorium, library, music wing, and gym all benefit the people. Though new, these additions have already become familiar in our educational pattern. Places provide the frame work and atmosphere in which our people learn.

PRIDE

PRIDE IS EXPRESSED in the Niles East traditions that have been developed by the people through the places. Scholarship, competition, ideals, parades, festivals, plays, class level advantages are all traditions that are renewed with excitement each year. Pride is the product of purpose and accomplishment. The people and places at our school reflect this pride. Pride is the foundation on which Niles East High School is solidly built.

Separate rooms for special areas of study, English, History, Arts, and Sciences, contain most of the non-fiction literature. Large and well-equipped, these rooms allow students to study and do research in silence.

The LIBRARY is a center for knowledge

This year Nilehi boasts a beautiful, new library. Located in a recently added wing, the library is designed to facilitate finding materials easily and quickly.

Books dealing with specific subjects such as English, History, Science, or the Arts are divided into separate rooms. A large area for fiction has also been provided in the new library.

Periodical and reserved book sections are special features of the library. Individual study booths are available to any student wishing absolute privacy while doing research.

Sound-proof carels built to accomodate two students are located in the library. Here, Sharon Natenberg studies in privacy.

The new library gives Nilehi students the opportunity to study under the best possible conditions. Helene Levin looks for research material and Sharon Natenberg studies in one of the private carels while Fern Nadler studies an assignment.

Fiction and biography books are shelved in the center of the library. Lower shelves make library organization easier.

ENGLISH concentrates on expression

At all levels of English instruction close attention is given to improving pupil ability for noting detail and understanding ideas expressed in their texts. Here Harvey Rabin reads a short mystery story in class.

Practicing writing techniques, stressed by the English Department. Alice Wolfe completes her weekly writing assignment as her instructor, Dr. Albright, answers a composition question from another student.

Team teaching and the Reading Lab were put to more extensive use by the English Department this year. The idea of combining two classes for lectures from one teacher and individual help from the other was used much more widely than in previous years. The Reading Lab has also become an intregal part of English instruction at Niles. Students were able to use the lab during study halls to improve reading and comprehension skills.

These teaching devices have enabled the English Department to better educate Nilehi students in written and spoken communication. Honors English, Journalism, Public Speaking, English Literature, and Drama were offered on all grade levels this year.

Team teaching has been used by several classes this year. In Junior Honors English, Miss Klaff lectures to a combined group.

Later, Dr. Albright, the other half of the "team", gives help to Cheryl Fritz, Robyn Brown, and Richard Felt.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE
improves communications

Miss Hagemann gives help to Paula Rest in understanding and translating a lesson in her French book.

Typical Russian peasant costumes are displayed by Mr. Moshak, Bev Gore, Mel Nemkov, and Steve Williams in a Russian class

The Foreign Language Department recently introduced a new method of Foreign Language Instruction labled "oral aural". This new approach first stresses speaking and then proper usage by correct grammar, reading and writing. While oral aural is used only to Spanish, it is hoped that eventually the system will be expanded.

French, Spanish, Latin, Russian and German are taught. Classes utilize the language lab in conjunction with regular instruction. In the lab, students improve their pronunciation while they develop their comprehension. Through Languages, communication is possible. Through communication, world peace is possible.

Richard Wolf listens attentively to the voice on the tape during an exercise in the well-equipped Language Lab.

SOCIAL STUDIES
manifests the evolution of ideas

An informal atmosphere is a feature of Family Living classes. Elaine Levinson gives a report to her classmates.

Two new courses, adding diversity to the department, were put in to the Social Studies curriculum this year. Non-Western Civilization and Political Science replaced the former required Freshman and Senior Social Studies courses.

All students were required to take three years of Social Studies, including the new freshman and senior courses and a year of United States History taken as juniors.

Students more interested in the social sciences were able to take World History, Psychology, Family Living, or Sociology. Many courses were taught on the honors level. in addition, European History was offered under the Advanced Placement Program which gives college credit to seniors.

Debbie Smith, Miriam Karmel, and Zaneta Feigan lead the class in a geographical study of the Far East in their Non-Western Civilization course, the revised Freshman Social Studies course.

Miss Zika smiles her approval as she passes corrected project papers back to students H. Bresnick, S. Schweet, J. Smith, K. Kabot, A. Appleman, S. Murphy, L. Redlin.

Lab period in Mr. Martyn's Chemistry class provides opportunity for practical application of lessons studied

SCIENCE challenges the unknown

Decapitated crayfish, deplorable smells, and dangling skeleton bones are all part of a normal day for the Nilehi science student. This year's science students have their choice of courses in General Science, Physiology, Chemistry, Physics, and Biology.

Biology 3,4 was taught for the first time this year. It replaced last year's Botany and Zoology courses. The experimental chemistry course was duplicated by many other schools in the area. Two experimental biology courses were also offered. These subjects stressed laboratory work and the application of its principles. One of these biology courses emphasized histology while the other stressed biochemistry.

Besides the traditional and experimental science courses, Niles included an Advanced Placement Program which are college credit courses for the more talented students in the field of science. In this way, students can begin possible careers in the world of science.

As the stress on mathematics increased so did Nilehi's courses for the student. Every student was assured the proper mathematics background he would need for whatever career he might be interested in.

Freshman were offered a choice of either General Math or first-year Algebra. The college bound student could take Plane Geometry and Algebra 3. Honors courses in Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, and Math Analysis were offered for ambitious students who excelled in mathematics. Today, a knowledge in mathematics is a necessity in maintaining America's position as a powerful and prosperous nation.

Miss Hall explains basic mathamatical shapes to Joe Gorden, Ray Elkes, and Mike Alpern of her Honors Algebra class.

John Norberg pursues his mathematical interest in the science room of the library.

BUSINESS EDUCATION teaches efficiency

Karen Feder works on a typing exercise as Mr. Malone checks her speed with a stop watch.

To turn our efficient clerical workers, the Business Education Department offers a well-diversified curriculum to Nilehi students. The use of the latest equipment and simulated office surroundings aid the teaching of the Business Education courses.

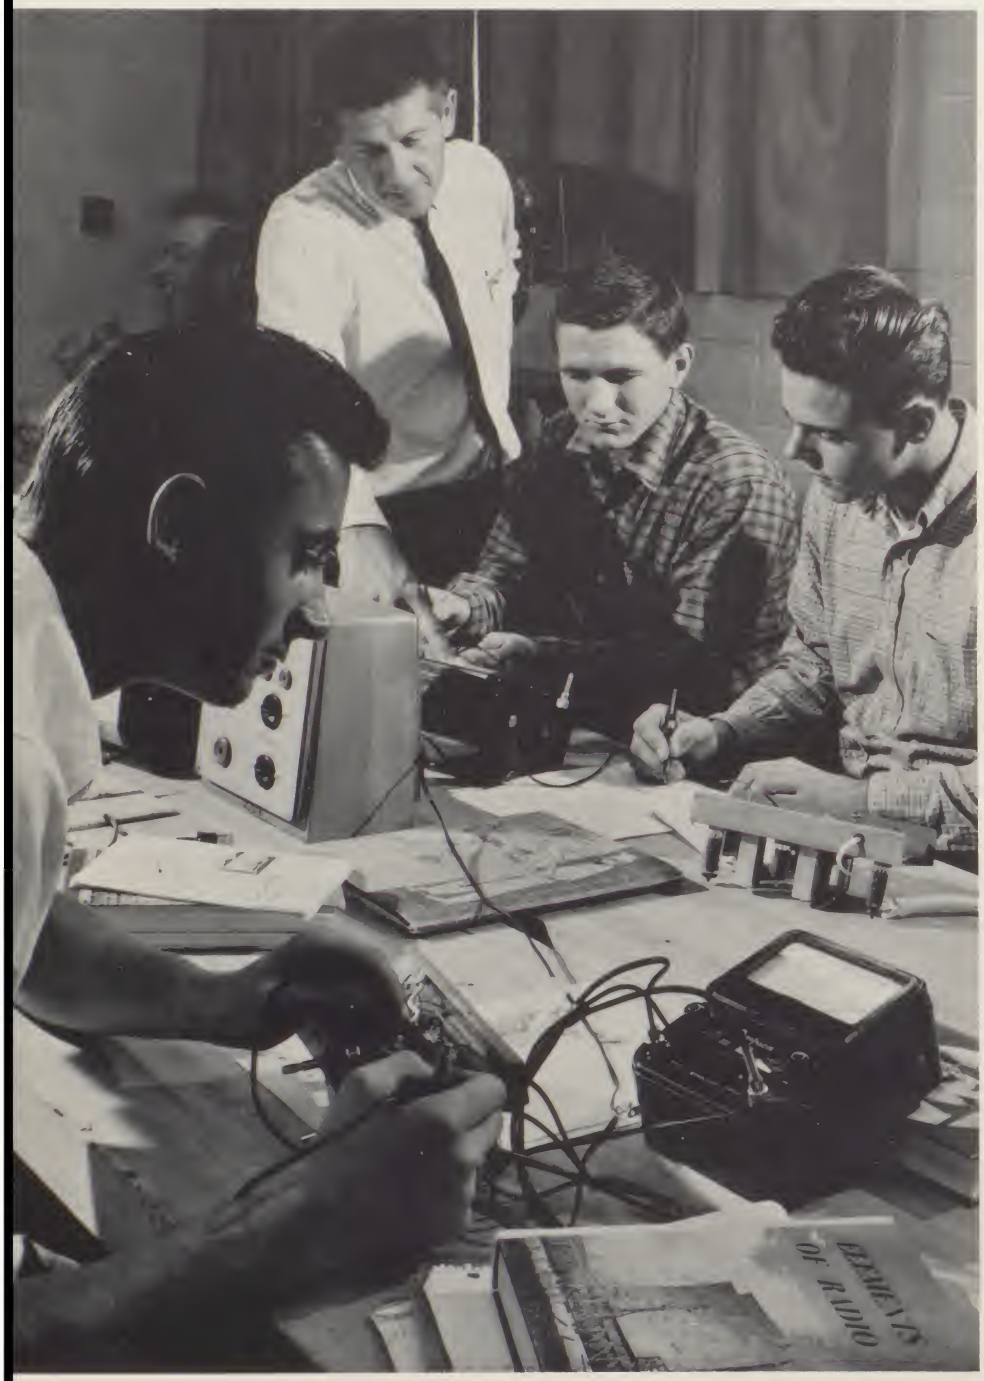
Typing and Shorthand, useful to all students, were offered by the department this year. In addition, students wishing to go into the business world were able to take General Bookkeeping, Clerical Practice, Secretarial Practice, or Business Mathematics.

Through these subjects, the Business Education Department is keeping up with the demand for highly skilled office workers.

In the busy "office" atmosphere of the Business Education Department Gail Kozlov, Barbara Frohman, Helene Eiker, and Francine Zak work in their Clerical Practice class.

Learning how to work an electric adding machine is an important part of Clerical Practice. Here Marilyn Teinberg is practicing computing an exercise on the machine.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS stresses precision



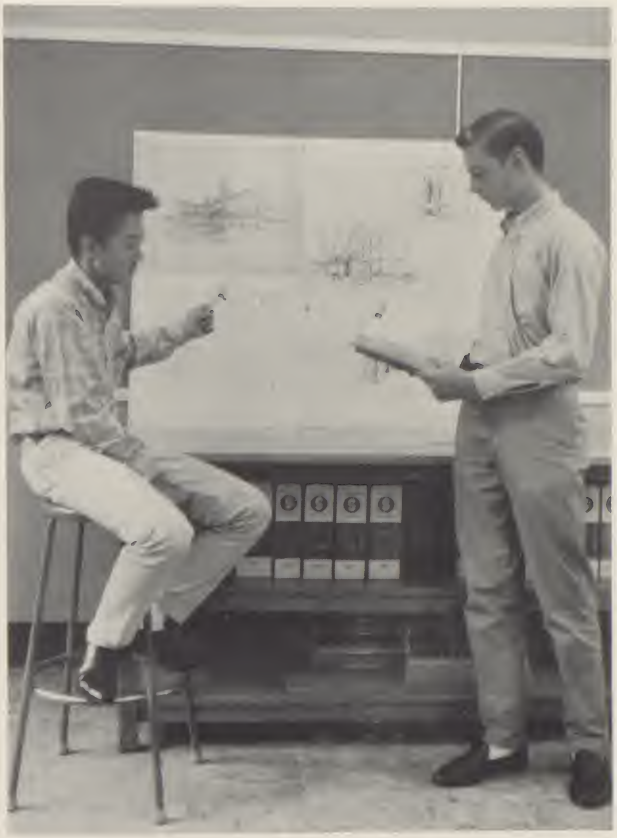
Mr. Fink checks the individual work of Electronics students Ray Pross, Steve Dory, and William Graham.

The Industrial Arts department continues to teach valuable skills to the students at Niles. Each of the boys participating receives competent instruction in the skills of operating lathes, using welding tools, and using the tools needed to draft ideas for their projects on paper.

Courses offered in the Industrial Arts department include Architectural Drawing, Mechanical Drawing, Auto Mechanics, Metals Shop, Woods Shop, and Printing Shop.

The experience the students receive from these courses become important assets to them in their future lives. The Industrial Arts department at Niles develops skilled craftsmen for the betterment of the community and the world.

Examining their woodworking handicraft are Richard Narde and John Vaugh, who together built a desk.



Hagio Kunio and Richard Garbo work on their modern homes in Architectural Drawing by studying presentation drawings.

Diagnosing car trouble is the work of Auto Mechanics students like Rich Young, Ray Pross, and Tim Harrigan, who are receiving help from their instructor, Mr. Test.

HOME ARTS emphasizes practical skills

In a Clothing class, Harriet Price hems a skirt as Miss Butler helps Robin Leigh and Maria Dory learn the parts of a sewing machine.

Through studies of practical courses, the Home Arts Department endeavors to give its students a good background for future careers and for home management. With this object in mind, the department added a course in Child Care for the first time this year.

Other subjects in home economics offered were Foods, Clothing, and Home Management. Girls who studied the first year of Foods or Clothing were able to continue their practical education in these courses. The Home Management class was offered with the idea of giving a sound experience in running a home.

Cherry Pie Contest judge, Assistant Principal Marvin Ihne, nods his approval as he samples first placewinner Linda Stocker's prize pie while Miss Butler looks on.

While Shelli Karol looks over some baby clothes, Miss Evangelista shows Child Care students Terry Winoker and Bobbi Epstein the correct way to hold an infant.

In their Foods class, Phyllis Berlin and Pat Brady prepare the many ingredients for a cake.

Individual creativity is stressed in Art Lab. Juliette Bain, Margie Sarnat, and John Peterson use extra class time to work on projects keyed to their own individual interests and talents in art.

ART encourages creativity

All those who have talent or an interest in art are offered one semester courses on each year level. The Art Department introduces its students to various techniques of shading, ink drawing, color usage, and other fascinating topics. In addition to the courses of Art and Art Lab already offered, Art History was taught this year for the first time. It is basically a lecture course on the art techniques of civilized man. Subjects in art help to cultivate and create interests that, in later life, may contribute to an active, commercial arts career.

Mr. Carr instructs the art department's first class in art history. He is shown discussing the graphic art of the Medieval period.

DRIVER EDUCATION increases maturity

The Driver Education Department answers the question, "How to develop safe drivers" with an intense program to teach driving skills.

Sophomore students participate in a three phase program beginning with six weeks of instruction in driving theory. The second phase consists of simulated driving in a stationary car, the Aetna-Drivo Trainers. Traffic situations are projected on a screen as a recording device charts the student's reactions.

The last phase involves fourteen hours of actual driving in a dual-control car. Nilehi's student driving course thus provides a complete program in safety and common sense.

Mr. Dorsey reproduces road situations on a movie screen to help Betty Kling practice driving in an Aetna Drivo-Trainer.

Bette Gustavson listens as Mr. Van Cleave teaches correct driving procedures to Judi Seigel.

Coach Larson initiates another Freshman class into the rigorous routine of calisthenics in Boys' Physical Education.

BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION builds sportsmanship

Revolutionary developments started to give results as President Kennedy's Physical Education program ends another year. Since the President's plea to the nation on the subject of making the body sound, schools have answered with revised programs stressing physical fitness and excellence.

Nilehi's Physical Education Department has instituted a wider range of sports than ever before. Badminton, football, golf, volleyball, baseball, swimming, flickerball, tennis, track and field, bowling, and wrestling help with fitness tests, to reinforce the program.

Ike Heller helps Ted Traiforos learn a basic swing on the parallel bars, while Oliver Hugo, Dennis Hoffman, and Larry Noesen look on and try to learn by demonstration.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION develops co-ordination

This year the Girls' Physical Education Department expanded its curriculum by adding a new class, Sophomore Leaders. It is an accelerated course stressing gymnastics. The subject is designed for girls who excel in athletics.

Junior and Senior girls also participated in physical fitness on an experimental basis. Each girls was able to choose the sports she was most interested in. These courses included Golf, Tennis, Hockey, First-Aid, Swimming, Softball, Modern Dance, and Volleyball.

Girls' Physical Education is a mandatory course involving eight required semesters for graduation. It is designed to improve girls' physical ability and co-ordination.

Andrea Cheszek and Ellen Daar work on the horse while other members of their class practice on the other apparatus.

Sandy Ohlson demonstrates an exercise. The class is Sophomore Leaders, an experimental course this year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Guiding and coordinating the many activities of Student Council are officers Jeff Sandler (vice-president), Jeff Siegel (president), Cynthia Garro (treasurer), and Glee Miller (secretary).

Although Student Council is not a new organization, its ideals and goals are constantly changing to meet new demands.

This year, Student Council succeeded in bringing the jukebox into the Student Lounge for use by all students. The crowded cafeteria problems, due to closed lunch periods, have been smoothed out by Council. In other respects, it has worked out a driving code to make it easier for students to drive to school. The school's government sponsored the gold-and-blue days held with the pep assemblies. The Leadership Training Conference, held at the end of the school year, was handled by the Council members. These and other accomplishments of the 1962-63 student government prove that every school needs such a representative body to be successful in appealing to the demands of every student.

Upholding the traditions and standards of Student Council are this year's members. Back Row: A. Feder, D. Maki, L. Larson, B. Finn, J. Isaac, S. Weiss, K. Levitan, and S. Bernstein. Fifth Row: I. Haualand, V. Sherman, S. Siegel, S. DuBoff, W. Jones, S. Siegal, S. Corey. Fourth Row: R. Richman, S. Gordon, J. Stover, C. Carlington, B. Harrison, R. Tefka, E. Elster, C. Beck, and J. Morris. Third Row: J. Mehlman, S. Kamin, H. Verbin, V. Gershberg, and J. Potnick. Second Row: D. Welstein, S. Salstone, L. Jacobson, M. Munk, and J. Handelman. Front Row: K. Slotky, M. Levitan, K. Finn, and B. Finder.

The SSO Executive Board members Norm Glutzer (SSSH), Ken Gordon (SSD), Jean Anderson (Head Clerk), and Rich Randel (Chairman) meet daily with Mr. Spatafora to insure proper functioning of the many faceted organization.

STUDENT SERVICE ORGANIZATION

Since its beginning in 1952 the Student Service Organization SSO has served many functions. Its most important achievement is that of releasing faculty members from supervising student behavior and placing that responsibility into the hands of the students.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Spatafora and the guidance of the executive board, the 300 members of SSO are divided into three subsidiary groups. The largest group, SSM, keeps the noise in the halls down to a minimum and eases student congestion in the halls. SSSH, the forerunner of the other groups, concerns itself with the department of students in study halls. The third group, the SSD, supervises the library and checks lockers. With a decade of dedicated service behind them, the members of SSO can take pride in an institution which has been copied by schools all over the country.

Handling SSO's paper work are the period secretaries. Back Row: S. Kamin, G. Carlson, and M. Silver. Second Row: S. Friedlander, J. Mehlman. Front Row: M. Klinn and C. Best.

Seeing that hall monitors perform their duties well is the task of the supervisors. Back Row: A. Winter, B. Toelke, H. Zarov, M. Miller, and M. Primack. Front Row: C. Louis (head secretary), R. Mills, M. Cavanaugh, T. Weise, and P. Nemkov.

The huge task of keeping the study halls running smoothly is up to the SSSH supervisors. Back Row: J. Chapnick, R. Wollack, D. Lerner, S. Goldstein, and S. Richter. Front Row: T. Kroon (head secretary), R. Gibson, A. Galen, and R. Young.

Checking lockers and assisting the librarians are the SSD supervisors. Back Row: S. Bernstein, J. Sandler, R. Minors, B. Shearn, M. Newburger, J. Isel, and A. Lazar. Front Row: R. Cassman, E. Mendel, J. McGrath, L. Mandel (head secretary), K. Gordon.

STUDENT PLANNING BOARD

Nilehi East is unique because it has both a Student Planning Board and a Public Relations Organization, known as EPIC. The function of the Planning Board is to co-ordinate the school's activities, such as student government, student services, academic clubs, sports clubs, fine arts clubs, and general activities. The Planning Board works with its sponsor, Mr. Spatafora, on current activities and future plans of these organizations. This year the Board has started a revolving fund from which the club treasuries can borrow money. The Board also is giving the concession stands at home basketball games to the different clubs so they can bolster their treasuries.

EPIC, the Public Relations Board, publicizes events that are going to be held by any school organization. It does this by use of P.A. announcements, display cases, and bulletin board announcements. EPIC also plans the school assemblies and puts out the EPIC news which covers all activity news. Both the Student Planning Board and EPIC can be considered as new divisions of the Student Service Organization.

EPIC, the student public relations board, has the task of publicizing various Nilehi activities to the student body. Back Row: H. Levin, S. Dribin, S. Bearak, R. Gale, S. Lewisberg, A. Pattoff, and B. Berlin. Second Row: B. Finn (chairman), C. Wells, M. Blitstein, J. Elias, and J. Newmeister. Front Row: L. Zolt and H. Verbin.

EPIC BOARD

Planning showcases is just one way Epic keeps the student body well informed on the activities in school. Changing the showcase to publicize Reflection's subscription drive are Epic members Marilyn Johnson, Judi Elias, and Marlene Blitstein.

The burdensome task of writing copy, cutlines, and headlines, taking pictures and orders, and assembling various sections into a compact yearbook belongs to the General Staff. Back Row: R. Felt, R. Cohn, J. Feng, J. Winkel, A. Spector, and M. Rizman. Third Row: S. Rubenstein (subscriptions and copyreading), B. Reifman, C. Estrin, C. Zimmerman, E. Pildes, S. Natenberg, S. Lewis, H. Zarov (sports). Second Row: H. Levin (academic), F. Nadle (treasurer), M. Jacob (activities), H. Verbin (co-editor), A. Winter (editor-in-chief). Front Row: B. Hoffman (portraits), J. Kroichick (special events), and J. Harris (GAA).

REFLECTIONS

The year has run its course. The deadlines have been met. The copy has been written, checked, and turned in. The photographs have been taken and carefully sorted out. The ink has dried. All these tasks are but memories, for the finished product, the result of a year of hard labor, is in your hands. It was designed for you, the student, and to you is it dedicated. Within this publication are the indelible impressions of class leaders who will one day attain the heights of fame in society. And we will read and say: "I knew him once! Yes, once when my life was gay and simple and beautiful. That was when everything was just beginning for me."

A year has fled across the pages of this annual to be captured on mere paper. And those who want to get the full benefit of this log will often turn their sails on the stream of time and bask in the sun of a southern sky. This is our remembrance of things past, and none can take them from us.

Our memories must be cherished and used towards the future. What better way is there to succeed than to tell the future by the past? The major element put forth in 1963 Reflections is thought. It does not end here. The reader must also use his powers of concentration to reach complete fulfilment. The mind is the chief instrument used in dissolving this book. The General Staff hopes you enjoy your 1963 Reflections, and it will become a treasured record of the past.

The annual Reflections-Nilehilite banquet brings a long, productive year to a close. Seated at the head table are Barbara Gordon (Reflections '62 editor), Dr. and Mrs. Harris, Mr. Beranis (Reflections sponsor), Mr. Frey (Nilehilite sponsor), Dr. and Mrs. Parker, and Roberta Teitel (Nilehilite '62 editor).

NILEHILITE

Every other Friday afternoon at the end of 7th period the school newspaper, the Nilehilite, is distributed among the students. This year the Nilehilite has again taken a first place rating in the National Scholastic Press Association competition. The quality of the paper is kept up by the qualification that all staff members must have taken journalism. Extra co-editors have been added to the staff making it possible to attain news of better quality and greater quantity. The Nilehilite sheds light on all student activities, faculty news, and sports plus added novelties such as student interviews and commentaries. The paper not only informs the students, but also provides the staff with journalistic experience which will be very useful to them in future years.

Coordinating the work of the Nilehilite are its editors Len Singer (Editor-in-chief), Art Rotstein (Sports), Marc Zwelling (Feature), and Fran Weinman (News editor).

Golden Galleon Guild, Nilehi's literary association, is dedicated to the stimulation and encouragement of creative writing. Its goals are to improve student writing and to provide an outlet of self-expression. Each spring, under the sponsorship of Miss Jean Canning, the Galleon's member-authors become literary critics and judge the numerous manuscripts submitted for publication. The year's activities are climaxed in June when Golden Galleon distributes the finished magazine to the student body.

The Guilds activities, however, are not confined to the publication of the magazine. Early in the year an initiation party was held for new and associate members. Each year two one-hundred dollar scholarships are awarded to deserving seniors on the basis of literary achievement and scholastic merit. In June, Galleon members assemble for their annual end-of-the-year banquet.

GOLDEN GALLEON

These Golden Galleon members not only write original creations, but they also read, judge, and help the literary talents of other Nilehi students. Background left to right: M. Haskell, C. Bobera, K. Schwartz, M. Sarnat, and J. Elias. Foreground: H. Nissenson, J. Snyder, and A. Winter.

HOME COMING COMMITTEE

The leadership needed for the vast job of planning Homecoming was handled by the Homecoming Committee's chairman and Executive Board. Back Row: K. Kent, C. Solomon, J. Issac, and C. Garro. Third Row: D. Schmidt, S. Dribin, and N. Joslyn. Second Row: H. Verbin, J. Potnick, C. Carlington, R. Brown, Front Row: P. Gallis, T. Kroon (director), and B. Finder.

Nilehi's own Robyn Brown sells her balloons to an enthusiastic crowd at the Homecoming game.

A great deal of work and time is spend by the Senior Board in planning each Student Union. Back Row: R. Seigel, M. Joffe, J. Albrecht, B. Silverstein, P. Monson, and T. Mauer. Third Row: J. Mise, R. Millis, J. Mehlman, H. Verbin, S. Ingersoll, T. Kroon, and K. Kent. Second Row: H. Nissenson, K. Finn, R. Ratner, C. Vodian, D. Schmidt, and K. Wells. Front Row: T. Roper (president), B. Lorr, J. Olson, and B. Finn.

STUDENT UNION BOARD

The Student Union Board is a group of seniors organized to promote better relations between the faculty and students and to provide interesting activities for the students.

The Board sponsors the monthly Student Unions. These dances are highlighted by popular motion pictures, band or recorded music, and refreshments. Special events, such as the N—Club initiation held on November 3, are held at the Saturday unions. The Board also plans and organizes the annual Christmas dance. This year's dance, "Moonlight and Mistletoe," was a beautiful evening climaxing the holiday festivities.

Every May the present Union Board selects approximately twenty juniors to be the next year's members. The juniors then vote for their officers, including a president, vice-president-treasurer, secretary, and chairman of the publicity, entertainment, refreshments, and decorations committees.

Student Union mixers offer Hollywood movies, games, refreshments, and dancing for all students enjoyment.

In recognition of their outstanding academic achievements, these seniors were inducted into National Honor Society last spring: Back Row: L. Mandel, M. Goodman, and P. Nemkov. Third Row: R. Ahrens, R. Bloom, R. Couzin, J. Siegel, and C. Shaughnessy. Second Row: R. Weinstein, and J. Snyder. Front Row: M. Silver, B. Finder, C. Wagner.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is a national organization designed to recognize and stimulate our superior students. Membership in the National Honor Society is limited to fifteen per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class. Students are selected by a faculty committee on the basis of scholastic achievement, leadership ability, and extra-curricular activities. To be eligible, a student must be in the upper twenty per cent of his class and must have at least a "B" average.

Each spring new members of the Society are initiated in a solemn ceremony. At this time, the initiates receive the traditional red roses and gold pins. These objects are symbolic of the fact that they have pledged themselves to upholding the ideals of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

National Honor Society members J. Snyder, R. Ahrens, M. Goodman, C. Shaughnessy, P. Nemkov, and L. Mandel light the candles symbolizing the light of knowledge in their induction ceremony.

Preparing for when they will be teachers are the officers of Teachers of Tomorrow. Back Row: B. Atkin (treasurer), and R, Kirman (secretary). Front Row: M. Jacob (vice-president) and B. Hoffman (president).

VOCATIONAL CLUBS

The vocational clubs offer their members programs which enable them to learn how to use and apply the basic prinicples of their respective profession. The Future Nurses Club, Teachers of Tomorrow, and Future Secretaries give students an opportunity to develop a better understanding of their tasks as careerwomen. The training available to students participating in the Physics and Astronomy Clubs will help future members understand the world better through research and experimentation. Boys who are interested in ham radio projects can receive the help they need through the Radio Club. The Executive Club will prepare students for competition in the business world. All of these clubs offer programs and guidance that is extremely beneficial to students because they prepare today's teens in becoming tomorrow's constructive citizens.

Leading the Astronomy Club in its discussions and explorations of the heavens are Chris Shaughnessy (vice-president) and Donald Dammann (president).

VOCATIONAL CLUBS

Teachers of Tomorrow assist the school during an Open House by helping parents find their children's program and then directing them around the building.

Preparing for the world of business are the members and officers of Executive Club, Wayne Hanson (secretary), Craig Dartsch (president), Ross Bendel (vice-president).

Jackie Czernick (secretary), Elaine Levinson (vice-president), and Paula Liebowitz (president) concentrate on helping the members of the Future Secretaries Club improve their necessary office skills.

Ronald Dammann (president) and Dave Messner (secretary) broaden their knowledge of physics through experiments and discussions offered by the Physics Club.

Chess Club's officers, Julian Weiss and Barry Wolf, enjoy the battle of minds that a game of chess offers.

HOBBY CLUBS

One of the basic principles of the extra-curricular activity program is that it appeal to all students. For the more serious minded student Nilehi offers clubs to provide mental stimulation as well as recreation. International Relations Club has a program of guest speakers, foreign exchange students, and informal discussions with members to discuss international and national problems. Chess Club members play to improve their game. This year a five man team was chosen to participate in inter-scholastic competition. The Folk Music and Stamp Collectors Clubs are the newest clubs at Niles. Nilehi's debate team participated in meets with several schools and appeared on the television show Rebuttal in December.

Holding up Niles' standards in debate and speech are these officers of Masque and Gavel. Back Row: Ken Levitan, Alice Wolfe. Front Row: Fred Reiner and Marty Chalfie.

Keeping informed on world affairs through lectures, discussions, and guest speakers are the members and officers of International Relations Club. Ron Kirschner (president), Richard Miller (vice-president), and Joel Goldman (secretary).

The Folk Music Club with Sharon Whetstone (secretary) and Lowell Shyette (president) as officers enjoys listening to music from different parts of the globe and comparing the varied yet similiar music.

Joel Rubinstein, Joe Goldstein, and Murray Pearlman as officers of Stamp and Coin Collectors Club discuss and compare the many stamp and coin collections of its members.

Aeneas' founding of Rome, Caesar's conquering of Gaul, and Augustus Caesar's expanding the empire are just a few of the topics discussed in Latin Club. Officers are Judy Eimstead (counsel) and Barbara Rosen (secretary).

FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLUBS

To supplement their grammatical knowledge of the foreign languages offered at Niles, students may participate in the foreign language clubs. This extra-curricular activity enables the students to learn more about the customs and cultures of various countries. Films are shown and are often accompanied by a lecture given by a guest speaker. The spirit of Christmas, as it is celebrated in other lands, was brought to Niles through parties given by the Spanish and German Clubs. Fall and spring banquets give interested students an opportunity to sample the foods and delicasies from other nations. Each year in the spring, Spanish students are able to see for themselves things which they have learned about all year through the school sponsored trip to Mexico.

Planning Christmas Party, Spring Banquet and other affairs for German Club members are Standing: Marianne Oram, Seymore Bearak and David Greenberg. Seated are Liene Venters and Gary Nevins (president).

Making plans for the Christmas party of Spanish Club are Carol Chapman (president), Lesley Levin (secretary), Richard Grant (vice-president), and Karen McCarthy (treasurer).

Looking over French imports are officers of French Club in background, Darlene Schmidt (treasurer), Fern Nadler (secretary), and Rhonda Kasik (vice-president). Front are Andrea Brainin (secretary) and Paula Rest (president).

Supplementing their knowledge of the Russian language are the officers Lynn Epstein (secretary), Robert Couzin (vice-president) and Kenneth Seeksin (president) of Russian Club.

RECREATIONAL CLUBS

TRI—HI—Y and HI—Y are two of Niles East's most active clubs. They have sponsored service projects and social functions. Affiliated with the Skokie Valley Y.M.C.A., the purposes of TRI—HI—Y and HI—Y are to prepare their members for future life and present betterment through high standards of character. HI—Y citizenship award and scholarship encourage members to live up to the highest standards. TRI—HI—Y, having just completed its twelfth year at Niles, participates in homecoming, athletics, and service works.

Pen Pal Club enables students who are interested in foreign countries or a foreign language to gain much knowledge by corresponding with a student from another country. Art Council gives the creative student a chance to dabble in the many different fields and aspects of art.

Planning many types of activities for its members are HI—Y'S officers. Back Row: A. Semrow and B. Peterson. Second Row: J. Isaac, B. Peterson, and N. Sandstorm. Front Row: C. Anderson (vice-president), and R. Randel (president).

Making plans for TRI—HI—Y'S service projects are Back Row: Kathy Plough (vice-president), Glee Miller (secretary), and Sally Gross (treasurer) Front Row: Jackie Miller (president).

Marla Berman, Steve Rosenzweig, and Pat Goodman, officers of Pen-Pal Club, have initiated a new practice at Niles by corresponding with high school students abroad.

Art Council's meetings allow students to participate in any phase of art they are interested in. Here Brad Kaste works on an oil painting as Niles Strangenes and Mark Chaikin watch Jaclyne Frazin work with clay.

Officers of the lively and active Art Council are Back Row: Sheila Dribin (treasurer) and Elaine Schuman (secretary). First Row: Lynette Zolt (president) and Robyn Brown (vice-president).

The Pep Club, with the help of its officers, Kathy Albrect (president), Sue Shuffman (vice-president), Linda Maxzon (treasurer), and Janet Wells (secretary) keeps school spirit alive and loud.

SERVICE CLUBS

Services to the school, the faculty, and the student body are the primary objectives of the service clubs. The Ushers Club makes certain that patrons at school functions are promptly seated. The purpose of the Managers Club is to care for the athletic equipment and build the athlete's moral. The Library Assistants keep the library in a neat and orderly condition by shelving and cataloguing incoming books. The PSO allows the students and faculty to enjoy the many pictures of different subjects they have taken around school. The Stage-lighting Club is responsible for lighting the auditorium for such programs as music and drama performances. The AVA handles technical equipment such as movie and slide projectors and tape recorders. These boys set up this equipment when it is needed for classroom instruction.

Films are previewed before being shown in the classes to discover any defects. Here Les Ascher, president of AVA watches for mistakes in the film, and checks the projector.

Sherry Stein (treasurer), Gayle Gordon (president), and Bobby Lutren (secretary) of Ushers Club, see that everyone is properly seated in the auditorium at school plays.

Overseeing the services of the Audio Visual Aids Club are its officers Les Ascher (president), Ron Greenberg (secretary-treasurer), and Al Semrow (vice-president).

Becoming acquainted with the new lighting equipment are the officers of Stage Lighting Club, Victor Kurc (vice-president), Al Semrow (secretary), and Bruce Silverstein (president).

MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS

The various music organizations of Nilehi East provide entertainment at assemblies, at seasonal programs, and at community functions. Besides singing at school events, the Lorelei under the direction of Mr. Earl Auge sang for the Skokie Civic Womens Club, the Fairview PTA, and the Skokie Young Women's Club. The Choir performed for Nilehi East's PTA. The Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Douglass, and the Concert Band, conducted by Mr. Leo Provost, joined the Choir in performances at many school assemblies during the year. Several annual music programs were again given this year. In December, the music groups combined their efforts to brighten the holiday season by presenting the annual Winter Festival. The Musical in April and the May Festival rounded out a year of excellent performances given by a group of hard working students who love to entertain the school.

VARSITY improved, but winless again

This year's Trojan varsity football squad although improved over last year, again failed to win a game. The improvement in the team, however, was obvious from the outset of the season. In its first game the squad made a superb team effort before falling to a very strong Niles West team 7-0. This heartbreaking loss to our arch-rival was a particularly frustrating defeat for East because the team played near-flawless football in a losing effort. The following week the gridders battled a very strong Proviso East team on even terms but fell to two long touchdown runs by the Pirate's Leo Howard, 14-0. From this point on the fortunes of the squad took a decided turn for the worse. Injuries, drop-outs and disciplinary action weakened the team greatly, resulting in crushing losses to New Trier, Oak Park and Waukegan. With the exception of a hard fought 21-0 loss to Evanston the varsity never again approached its early season form.

Prospects for next year are fairly good. Captain John Pappandrea and Most Valuable Bill Richardson are graduating but this year's squad was dominated by Juniors. With outstanding Juniors Dick Minors, Bert Hall and Mark Newburger being joined by a group of sophomores who should bolster the weak Trojan line, the current 16 game losing streak should end in 1962-63.

SOPHS display tough defense, weak offense

The 1962 sophomore football squad opened the season successfully with consecutive victories over arch-rival Niles West and eventual Suburban League champion, Proviso East. This early season momentum faded quickly, however, and the sophs lost all of their remaining six games.

The late season failure of the sophomore gridders was due, in a large part, to the loss of first string quarterback Don Seigal after the Proviso game and to the lack of a strong running attack. Theses two deficiencies caused an offensive weakness which the unusually strong sophomore defense could not offset.

Back next year to try to realize the promise displayed in the Proviso game and to end Nilehi's sixteen game losing streak are Maury Sapoznick, Bill Nigut, Barry Scholer, Neil Chertack and this years outstanding sophomore, fullback Glenn Paul.

The 1962 edition of the Niles Township Varsity Cross Country squad was the finest in school history. Led by Nilehi's greatest runner, Mike Purcell, who was defeated only four times in seventeen dual meet appearances, the varsity turned in an 8-8-1 record. The highlight of the season and an indication of the stature reached by this years team was a 28-28 tie with defending state champion Highland Park. Subsequent weakening of the team through drop outs, injuries and disciplinary action led to a disappointing 8th place Suburban League meet finish, but failed to dampen the general feeling of optimism which pervades the Nilehi Cross Country program. Prospects for next year are extremely bright as consistent performers Greg Gunderson, Mark Liebman and Norm Sandstrum return in 1963.

SOPHS show promise

The Sophomore Cross Country squad suffered through a misleading 3-16 record in 1963. This is not a true indication of the potential of this squad, however, for the two top soph Harriers were up helping the varsity to its fine record. These two, Greg Gunderson and Chris Stahlke, along with consistent sophomore winner Ron Kaufman form the nucleus of what might have been one of the finest soph teams in the area. Minus Stahlke and Gunderson, however, the sophs experienced more than their share of troubles. As in the case of the varsity, the Suburban League meet was a disaster for the sophs, who also had to settle for eighth place. Nevertheless, prospects for next year are excellent and the steady improvement of Nilehi Cross Country teams should continue in the near future.

GYMNASTS second in state

Arnie Lazaar executes a perfect handstand on the parallel bars as Coach Riccatelli watches intently.

Nilehi's pride and joy in 1962-63 was her outstanding gymnastics team. With but one loss in sixteen dual meets marring its record, the gymnastics team rolled to a second place in the Suburban League and District Meet, and to second place in the State Meet. Led by Seniors Ike Heller and Ken Gordon the gymnasts raced to twelve consecutive dual meet victories before losing to powerful Evanston. The squad bounced back beautifully from the Evanston loss with three consecutive dual meet victories and then closed the season with its fine showing in the state meet. With Heller and Gordon the only Seniors in the varsity line-up it appears as though the Trojan gymnasts will be even better next year. Such outstanding performers as Dale Hardt, Rick Block, Mark Slotten and Arnie Lazaar, all state qualifiers will return in 1963-64 to spearhead another drive for the state gymnastics championships.

The overall excellence of the Nilehi gymnastics program was beautifully illustrated by this year's sophomore squad which finished the season with an excellent 10-5-1 record. The soph's league record was 3-2-1, good for fourth place. Outstanding all year and expected to help the varsity to further honors next year were Mark Lazaar, Steve Wolf and Jim Pardo.

VARSITY BASKETBALL begins rebuilding

The strain of defeat in the face of all out effort is mirrored on the faces of Trojan Basketball players.

The 1962-63 Trojan basketball squad failed in 19 attempts to come up with a victory. With no experienced starter returning from last year's squad, no accurate outside shot and no big man to control the boards, the varsity found itself unable to cope with its very strong competition.

An example of the problems faced by the hoopsters is the case of Bill Lorr. Lorr, our tallest starter at 6'3", was inexperienced as he saw very little action last year and from his center position found himself dwarfed by the giants of the opposition. Nevertheless, he managed to average over 15 points a game while doing a competent job of rebounding. Lorr's value to the team is best illustrated by his teammates who named him most valuable player on the 1962-63 squad.

Obviously, the picture for next year will improve. Lorr was the only Senior who saw much action this year as Coach Haselton began a rebuilding program which saw Juniors and Sophomores seeing extensive action. With four starters returning next year, 1963-64 should see the end of the current losing streak.

J.V.'S, SOPHS close fast

A winning season for the sophomore basketball team was precluded by the fact that Coach Haselton called the three outstanding sophs, Glen Jarol, Doug Kornelly, and Denny Berkson up to the varsity. With this handicap, the squad struggled through a 4-12 season. The team appeared to be coming into its own at the conclusion of the season, however, as it closed with two convincing victories over Highland Park and Oak Park.

The Junior Varsity had much the same type of season as the sophomores. They finished the year at 3-10 and they also won their last two games. The lack of height in the Niles basketball program was particularly obvious on the Junior Varsity as the tallest man on the squad was the manager, 6'1" Al Schaps.

SCRAPPY GRAPPLERS show winning form

If an award were to be given for Nilehi's scrappiest squad, it would have to go to the varsity wrestling team. Injuries and drop-outs rocked this team until at the conclusion of the season only three of the twelve boys who wrestled in the first meet against West wrestled in the final District Meet. Nevertheless, the grapplers posted a very fine 9-5 overall record and a 3-4 league mark. In the District Meet in which the Trojans managed a third place, five wrestlers qualified; all return in 1963-64! With these five, Mark Newburger, Bob Heller, Howie Rosenbaum, Bob Machacek and Jeff Isel, joined by a solid sophomore squad Coach Byram can look forward to a strong 1963-64 wrestling team.

FROSH, SOPHS both third in league

The sophomore wrestlers held true to the tradition of Nilehi wrestling teams as they scored eight wins in twelve dual meets in 1962-63. In league competition the soph grapplers were 5-2, good for third place. Outstanding all year were Ken Isaacson, John Smart, All Henriche and Craig Turski. With this strong group of sophomores moving up to join five district qualifiers on the varsity next year, wrestling supporters are looking forward to a return of the days when Niles was the wrestling power in the state of Illinois.

The Frosh with an 8-4 record and a third place Suburban League finish gave promise of continuing the great Niles wrestling tradition.

SWIMMERS splash to five new marks

The varsity swimming squad finished the season with a 5-9 record. This is no cause for pessimism, however, for eleven of the fourteen varsity swimmers are returning for the 1963-64 season including four record-breakers. All in all, the 1963 season saw Nilehi's swimmers establish five new varsity records while enroute to a sixth place Suburban League finish. Prospects for next year are extremely bright as consistent performers John Simon, Leon November, Stan Cichowski, and Fred Streicher along with a strong sophomore team will return to form the nucleus of what should prove to be Nilehi's greatest swimming team.

The 1962-63 sophomore swimming squad was one of the best in Niles history as it posted a 7 won-5 lost record in rolling to fourth place Suburban League finish. Led by Suburban League butterfly champion Marty Chalfie the soph mermen reflected the brightening Niles swimming hopes as they cracked four school records. Contributing to this assault on the records books and returning next year to the varsity are Ira Zarov, Marty Chalfie, Jim Bonow, Mark Davis, and Fred Poindexter.

The Freshman Squad though winning only two of eight meets was brightened by the appear—ances of two outstanding freestylers, Jamie Heller and Jim Wickert and by heir-apparent to Mr. Chalfie's Butterlfy crown, Mark Liebman. All three of these boys qualified in the top six in the highly competitive Suburban League meet and are expected to be fixtures in the Niles swimming program for the next four years.

The early part of the 1963 baseball season was, to say the least, confusing. The varsity dropped two of their first three games but were never soundly beaten. Both defeats were one run decisions. With the return of Senior pitcher Marv Kaye the hitherto erratic Trojan pitching staff should be greatly strengthened. With Kaye and Bill Toehlke pitching consistant good baseball 1963 could see a return to the glory days of Niles baseball.

The 1963 varsity track team boasts two outstanding Seniors in Bill Lorr and Mike Purcell and a host of promising underclassmen. Sophomore half miler Greg Gunderson ran an outstanding 2:04 half mile in the first outdoor meet of the year and shows promise if becoming one of the state's top men in this event. The sophs have four half milers capable of breaking 2:10. Sophomore pole vaulter Neil Chertack has cleared eleven feet. This year's track team is an interesting blend of old and new and gives indication of vast improvement in the years to come.

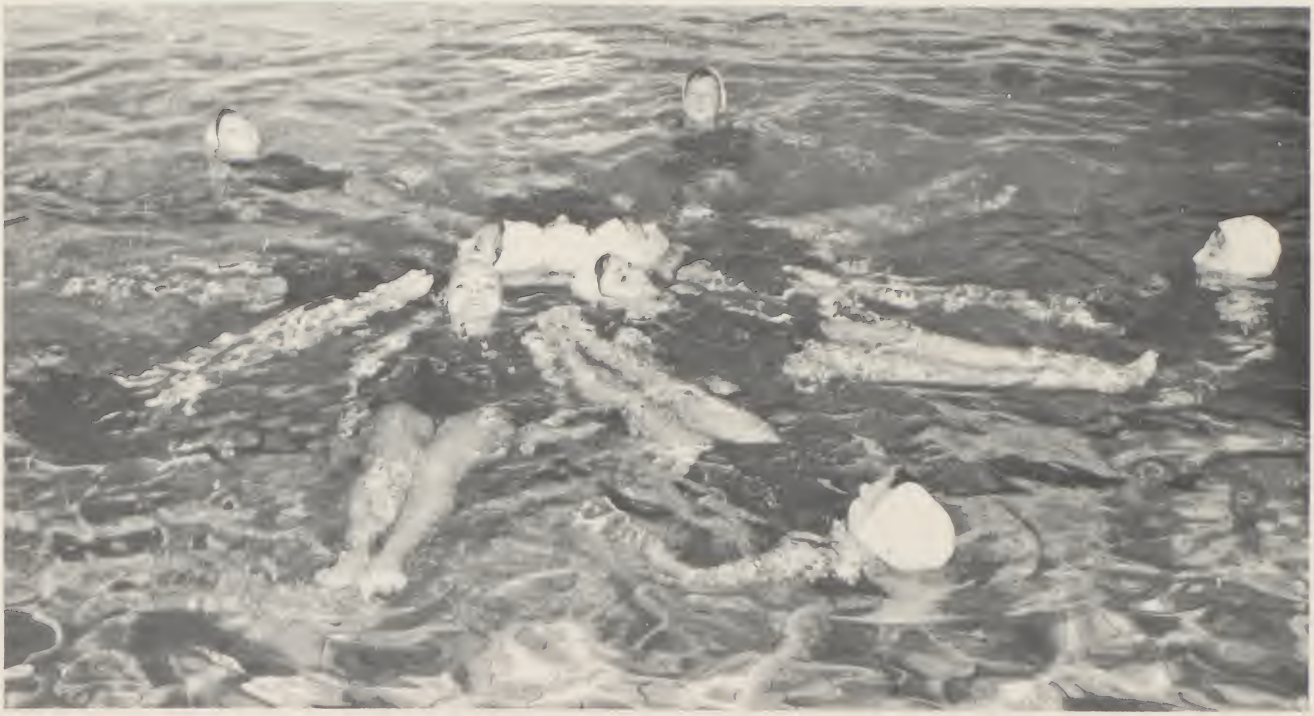
G.A.A. develops co-ordination and skill

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization standing for the development and co-ordination of the body as well as the mind and emotions. An integral group of girls who spark and maintain friendship, G.A.A. enlightens the school day with vigorous exercise. Team sports such as volleyball, badminton, and basketball, along with individual sports like modern dance, swimming, and golf afford G.A.A. members the opportunity for self-improvement and relaxation several days after school. This year G.A.A. introduced two new sports: the inter-scholastic tennis team and the gymnastic demonstration team.

G.A.A. gives two points for every hour spent after school. These points are accumulated over a period of four years, and awards are presented at an assembly each spring. At this time the governing group of G.A.A., the G.A.A. Board, installs its new members and officers.

The girls annually sponsor a service project. This year they visited Three Oaks, an old people's home. After-the-game mixers like the Cut-Up and the Breather, along with a mid-winter and spring playday, were also sponsored by the girls. The main event of the year was the spring Turnabout dance, Tonight at Tara.

The management of G.A.A. is guided by its hard working officers: Beth Kucera (Treasurer), Marlene Weinberg (Secretary), Sue Ingersoll (Second Vice President), Sue Eichhorn (First Vice President), Nancy Johnson (President).



In the swim of things are Ripplettes Debbie Aultz, Anita Vega, Lila Greaves, Carol Zimmerman, Sandy Ohlson, Linda Singer, Jan Barnet, Robyn Brown, Ginny Van Ommering, and Kathy Wells.

Displaying her acrobatic ability in a walk-over is Dawn King, a member of the G.A.A. gymnastic demonstration team.

CHEERLEADERS spark enthusiasm

The freshmen, sophomore, and varsity cheerleaders are known throughout the entire school as excellent examples of good sportsmanship and school spirit. Always prepared to cheer the teams on to victory, the varsity cheerleaders are lead by senior captains Kathy Finn and Janet Olson. Practicing three days a week after school is difficult work but must be accomplished to obtain the goal they are striving for. The cheerleading sponsors, Miss Ray and Mrs. Drake, demand perfect attendance of these hard working girls.

While cheering in rain and cold weather, the cheerleaders feel even more inspired to help the team with hearty yells and bursts of joy. Always feeling that their first loyalty is to the team, they have much school spirit and promote it to a great extent. All enthusiastic girls who have athletic ability, good sportsmanship, and are good representatives of Niles are invited to compete for these limited positions at a cheerleading clinic which is conducted each spring.

HOMECOMING - a glimpse of the old and the new

Amid much excitement, carefully assembled floats are lined up and judged.

Candy! Popcorn! Cokes! are familiar cries echoing across the stands of the stadium.

To celebrate its twenty-sixth Homecoming Festival, the Trojans took a "Highland Fling". This year's Homecoming theme accented the annual float parade and the traditional Homecoming Dance. To begin a wonderful weekend, a twilight pep rally was held on October 12 to commemorate the football game with Highland Park on October 13.

As the sun peeped over the roof of the Old Orchard Theatre Saturday morning, hoards of people were seen busily applying the finishing touches to their creations. A long line of beautiful floats, ranging from decorated cars to elaborate trailer floats, awaited the judges' decision. Among the winners were the Junior and Senior Cabinet floats and the Cheerleaders' float.

At nine o'clock the procession left the theatre parking lot and started on a route which took them through Skokie and back to school in time for the afternoon game. Although losing this hard-fought battle, the team and its unconquerable spirit will be remembered for many years to come.

Tina Kroon bids a royal hello to football enthusiasts at this year's Homecoming game against Highland Park.

The traditional Homecoming Dance marked the highspot of that memorable weekend. The evening began at eight thirty as Alumni and students danced to mood music supplied by the Bel-Tones.

The gathering was treated to an evening enhanced in old Scottish style, as the gymnasium became a medieval castle, complete with a red carpet and plaid kilted heralds.

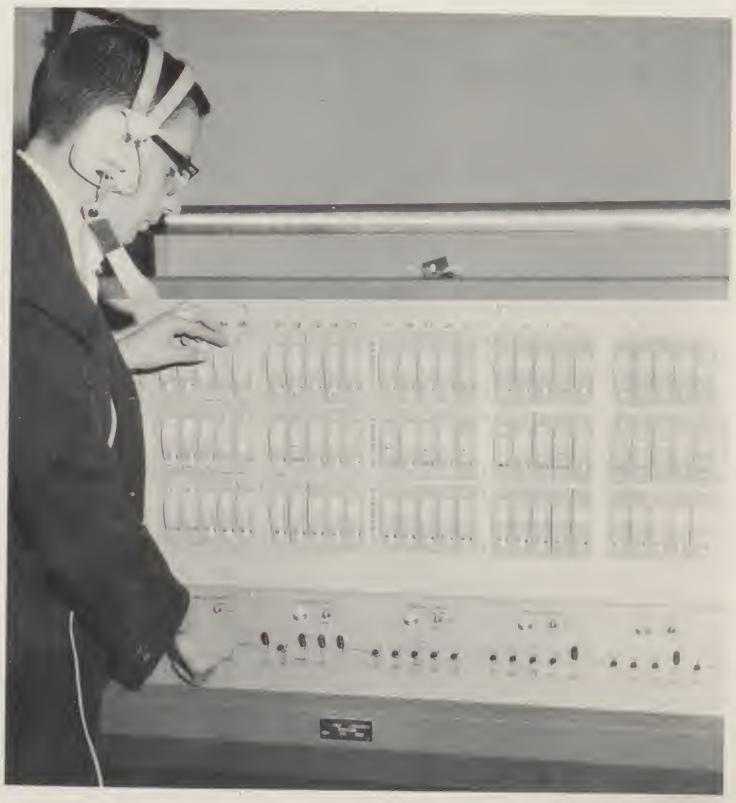
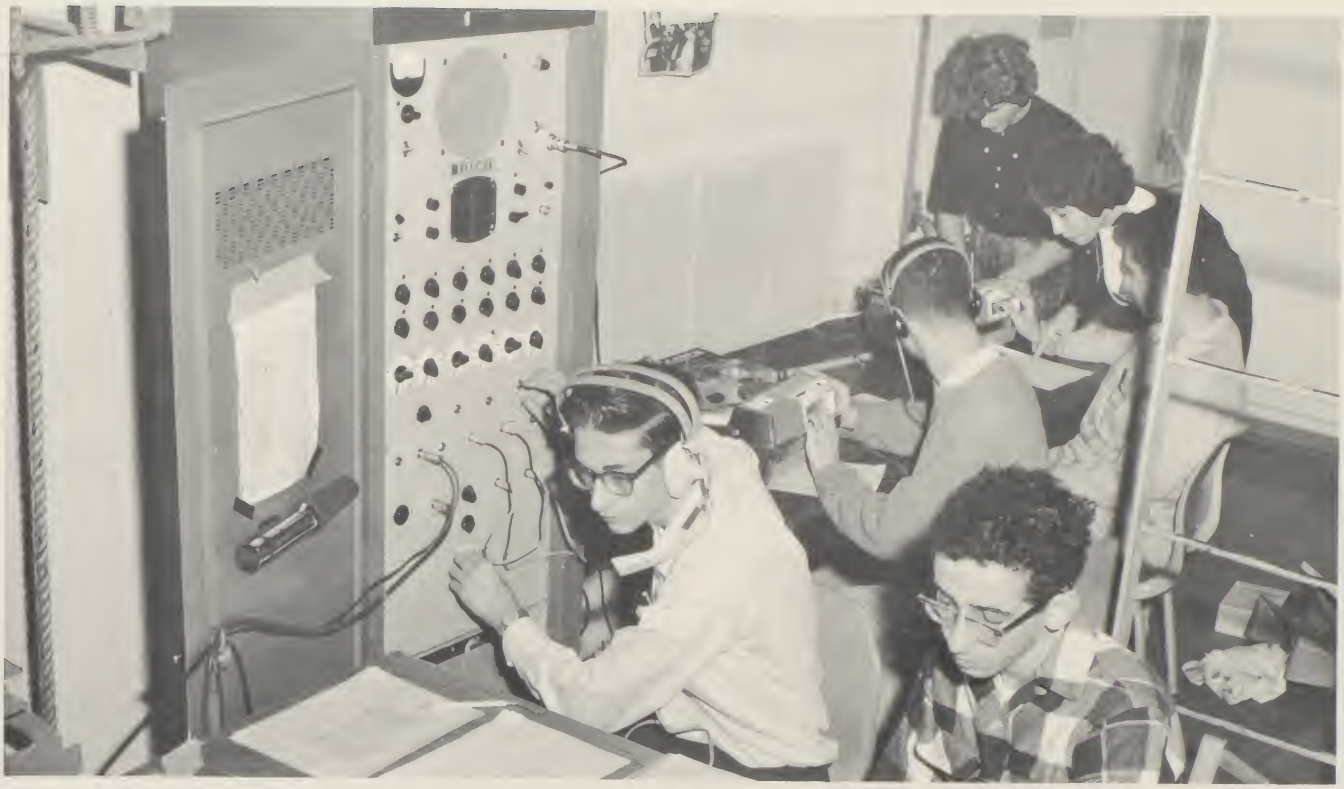
LIGHT, SOUND and MAKE-UP lead to . . .

Much of the fun of producing a Broadway production results from the many backstage tasks. Having just moved into a new auditorium, Nilehi's lighing and sound crews busied themselves with the task of developing the proper techniques for the auditorium-christening production of "You can't Take It With You." The lighting and sound crews of advisor Mr. George Fink were long at work when Miss Virginia Stemp completed the casting principals in the play.

Once the tasks of casting, lighting and sound were completed, the entire cast and production staff settled down to six weeks of rehearsing. Were it not for the efforts of the make-up, property and costume crews, the production would not have been the smashing success it was!

Bruce Silverstein handles the confusing job of switching on the proper stage lights at the master board.





Behind the scenes there is much activity as the stage crew rehearse their cues.

"Not in the eye", shrieks Perry Tasky as Nancy Rhodes applies make-up.

"He's cute," chuckles Sue Robinson to Bob Greenberg as Elise Bloom, Karen Slotky, and Perry Tasky look on in amazement.

. . . a sparkling "YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

Almost everyone wishes he were someone else, but the members of the Sycamore family were happy the way they were. Essie had been dancing and making candy for eight years. Mr. DePinna and Paul Sycamore had been writing DePinna and Paul Sycamore had been making firecrackers for some time. Mrs. Sycamore had been writing plays for seven years because a typewriter was once delivered to her by mistake. Ed had been playing the xylophone and printing greeting cards. Grandpa attended commencements and played darts. All did as they pleased without a worry-all except Alice, the only sensible member of the family, and the Kirbys, the exact opposites of the Sycamores. Their son, Tony, like Alice, was an exception, as he was the only rational member of his family. His engagement to Alice and the reformation of his father provided the plot for the wonderful comedy by Kaufman and Hart, "You Can't Take It With You."

Grandpa (Mike Kassin) gives the tax collector (Jeff Provus) a hard time when he refuses to pay his income tax many years overdue.

Mr. Kolenkov (Tim Taylor) looks on happily as pert ballerina Essie Sycamore (Sandy Salstone) tries to learn a new step.

It's love for Alice Sycamore (Mimi Tangul) and Tony Kirby (Chuck Solomon) as they plan to spend summer, winter, spring, and fall together.

NOTES of
seasonal cheer resound throughout nilehi

Nilehi is alive with the melodies of seasonal music as Mr. Provost, the orchestra, and the choir perform at the Christmas Music Festival.

With the presence of winter's joyous holiday season came the beautiful music of Niles' ambitious music department. Under the leadership of Mr. Earl Auge and Mr. Leo Provost, voices of the Glee Club Choir, and Loreli blended with Niles' student orchestra to produce numerous Christmas, Hanukah, and winter melodies.

Selections from Sunday afternoon's concert were repeated at an all school assembly so all students could have a chance to enjoy one of Niles' outstanding achievements.

The choir was also asked to carol in the Old Orchard Shopping Center that Friday night.

It can truly be said that the music department added to the joyous mood and gay spirit of the 1962 holiday season.

The choir nervously waits for last minute instructions before their performance in the winter music festival.

Jackie Miller, Jim Albright, Bob Ahrens, and Sue Furster reflect for a moment on the past year's happy memories.

"MOONLIGHT and MISTLETOE" climax the holiday season

Niles' students decked themselves with bright airs and happy faces at this year's annual Christmas Dance. Sprigs of mistletoe and soft romantic moonlight transformed the girls' gymnasium into a winter wonderland.

The dance, sponsored by the Student Union Board, was highlighted by the entrance of St. Nicholas himself, more commanly known to the students as Mr. Earl Auge.

Students danced by the light of a full, pale yellow moon and the popular melodies of Jack Emery's orchestra. All who attended the dance will long have beautiful memories of a night of "Moonlight and Mistletoe."

Jan Olsen and Ted Roper pause to enjoy an old-fashioned cup of "Christmas Cheer".

TINKERBELL casts her magic sparkle... on Reflections Talent Show

"Not bad," observes Mr. Disney (Jerry Paul) as he sizes up his animated characters, Jill Lampert, Maureen Paul, Jeri Hoffman, Carol Bacino, Helene Harwood and Danna Hirsch.

Reflections Revelries of 1963 proudly presented "Fact and Fancy," a delightful romp through the four happy kingdoms of Disneyland. Twenty-two colorful acts depicting the fantasy and realism of the magic land ranged from a chorus line of pretty Tomorrowland girls, to a clever song and dance number by several animated Disney favorites from Fantasyland, to a solo Indian ritual dance from Frontiersland, to an exciting hunter-leopard dance twosome from Adventureland.

A gay parade of tourists and an old-fashioned band started the evening off on a lively note. To highlight the show, introducing every act was a special narrated tableau and a slide of an actual attraction from Disneyland. The evening ended on a note of warmth with the appearance of Tinkerbell herself, wishing everyone a magical goodnight.

A band of roving minstrels, Linda Wolcott, Sue Sernovitz and Donna Orbach, brings the colorful music of the old South to Nilehi.

The German Marching Band and a varied group of Disneyland citizens offset the excitement and fun of the 1963 Reflections Revelries Talent Show.

Chuck Solomon glances anxiously at his watch as Harriet Verbin, Judy Mehlman, Bobbi Lutren, Sue Berberick, Sandy Friedlander, Janice Potnick, and Karen Slotky cry, "You're late!"

"We hate each other very much!" yell Huey, Dewey, and Louie as portrayed by Dale Sachnoff, Sue Scholnick, Sue Schweit, Joan Kroichick, Mimi Tangul, and Arlene Morishita.

Best of show honors went to Andrea Chesnek whose jazz dancing was the highlite of the show.

Actors Mike Klug and Chuck Solomon lay villainous plans before a statue of Sleepy Hollow's famous headless horseman.

"SLEEPY HOLLOW"

is setting of the 1962 musical show

"Mr. Crane of Sleepy Hollow", the first complete musical to be presented at Nilehi, was a delightful comedy about a tall, slender, but lovable dancing teacher who invaded an all-girl school. Ike Crane, played by Les Silverman and John Isaac, found himself in love with the school music teacher, in a hot feud with the rival physical education teacher, and in trouble with the Dean of Sleepy Hollow, the girls' school. The cast, crews, orchestra, and chorus owe their outstanding performances to the able direction of Mr. Earle Auge, music, and Miss Virginia Stemp, drama.

"Mr. Crane of Sleepy Hollow" was not without its romantic moments. One of them is captured here by cast members Bruce Goodman, Jeff Siegel, Jerri-Rae Hook and Sue Peterson.

Richard Young, Ann Coffoll, Mike Tansey, and Helen Hoffer all agree that sparkling fountains and Arabian castles are an important part of "Scheherazade," the 1962 Arabian style prom.

"SCHEHERAZADE" bids farewell to 1962

"What a handy statue!" cry Jack Sullivan and Kathy Stockmar to Barbara Frohman, Fred Samson, Nancy Link, and Bill Richardson.

Prom King and Queen (Marilyn Maypole and Ken de Graffenreid) stand regally amongst their court (Diane Schoenberg, Stuart Marshall, Sharon Greenberg, Rodger Rojo, Richard Feldman, Jill Schwartz, Jay Bradigan, and Diane Stevens,) all elected by fellow students.

Lingering longest, perhaps, in the hearts and minds of the graduates of 1962 will be that wonderful night, the night of the 1962 Junior-Senior Prom, "Scheherazade".

June 3, 1962 symbolized many things. For some, on the Junior Cabinet Planning Board, it marked a year of preparation and anticipation of that final day. For others it was a long awaited occasion for dancing and celebrating; but it was for the seniors that June 3, 1962 was really important, for it marked the end of their high school years and the beginning of a new type of life.

"Scheherazade" was the magic word that transformed the gymnasium into the wonderful land of the Arabian Nights, a land of genies, magic carpets, and scented perfume. From 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 p.m. couples enjoyed the splendor of that enchanting land as they danced to the music of Stan Bellack's Band. The climax of the evening occurred as Marilyn Maypole and Ken de Graffenreid were pronounced King and Queen.

Although couples were not charmed by the eerie melodies of snake charmers' flutes, they did dance to the music of Stan Bellack's Band.

The jump from grammar to secondary school is a large one. The freshman faces ideas and concepts that are totally new to him. For the first few weeks of school, even the daily schedule and the locations of various rooms may prove problems to the freshman, but gradually, he adjusts to the trends of high school.

Freshman Cabinet, an organization composed of elected representatives and alternates from each homeroom, unifies and strengthens the newly-joined class. Cabinet's constitution is patterned after that of the United States, even to the extent that officers are elected within the Cabinet itself. The President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer preside over meetings held alternate Fridays of each month.

Having successfully conducted a sweater sales campaign, Freshman Cabinet came once again to the limelight with their booth at the all-school Carnival "Panic 63." Already the representatives are making plans for next year.

Freshman Cabinet member Robert Sweetow is the barker as Renee Porter thoughtfully composes a comic "Panic-Gram" the feature of the Class of '66 booth at the all-school carnival.

Freshmen Cabinet's first project is the planning and construction of the class's float for the Homecoming Parade. The product is shown here as it turns off the main parade route at Niles Avenue and Oakton Street.

The sophomore, the upper-lower classman, at last an untaunted-identify, can now tease the little "Freshies" just as he was once teased and kidded. Along with this new maturity comes the sophomore's realization that he must participate in his class's government. Through the Sophomore Cabinet, he works to unify and strengthen his class.

As in all school cabinet groups, one representative and one alternate-representative are elected from each homeroom. It is the responsibility of the homeroom representative to attend the weekly Tuesday afternoon meetings, and then repeat items of interest to his homeroom.

Nilehi's Sophomore Cabinet commenced a successful year in October with Homecoming. Their float, embodying the theme of this year's event "A Highland Fling," was a major attraction of the parade. In addition, the Sophomore Cabinet booth at the all-school carnival "Panic 63" was a great success. The funds raised by the "Bean-throwing booth" will go toward class projects.

Using a play on words, the sophomore cabinet turned the Homecoming theme, "A Highland Fling," to "A Highland Sling." A Giant player lies in the sling ready to be shot out of sight by the husky Trojan warriors.

When the student reaches his junior year, he begins to think seriously about the years after high school. Will he attend college, or, will he find employment? In an effort to aid the student in formulating his future plans, Nilehi has created two basic types of student conferences. In one, the student speaks to representatives from business and industry, while in the other, the student speaks to representatives from various colleges and universities. By June of the junior year, the student has normally decided whether or not he will attend college.

The junior, however, is still very concerned with his high school education, and particularly with the activities of his class. By his election to Junior Cabinet, the student may participate in his class's government. One representative and one alternate-representative from each homeroom are elected to this governing body.

Throughout the school year, Junior Cabinet is active planning and exciting numerous projects. Early in the year, Cabinet built a float for this year's Homecoming "A Highland Fling." In February, Cabinet had a booth at the all-school carnival "Panic 63."

A highlight in the life of the Junior is the Prom sponsored by Junior Cabinet. To raise money for this year's affair, Cabinet contracted the Smothers Brothers to perform at Nilehi on February 11. The famed twosome entertained a large audience with folksongs and a humor common to no other entertainers.

The spirited Class of '64 "pull together" effectively as they defeated the "Boys of '63" as their junior classmates cheer encouragement from the stadium stands.

CLASS OF 1963 officers and...

...CABINET representatives

A student's senior year is his biggest year in high school. The senior worries over college entrance requirements and must pick the college he would like to attend. The senior is the leader in most school activities, and to keep the senior class unified, each senior homeroom elects one representative and one alternate representative to the Senior Cabinet.

The 1963 Senior Cabinet kept very busy the entire year representing and planning for the best class in the school. Cabinet began the year by sponsoring the Homecoming Dance, "Gathering of the Clan." As a part of the Homecoming festivities, the Cabinet-built Senior Class Float took a First Prize. Later in the year Cabinet helped run Alumni Night, and, after that, sponsored the All School Carnival, "Panic '63." Senior Cabinet also sponsored a series of Senior Days including Mad Plaid Day, White Shirt Day, and Panic Button Day. After a long year of hard work, Cabinet looks ahead to its last but happiest task of all, planning and preparing for graduation.

"Away we go!" these seniors shout as their Bike Day excursion gathers steamdespite the cancellation of the East-West baseball game which was the original destination.

"Let's GO Nilehi!" "Let's WIN Nilehi!" The senior section leads the bravado of a gymnasium Pep Rally.

"Where did these four years go?" might well be the thought in the minds of many of these senior class members as they listen to their class officers outlining graduation procedures in one of the frequent class meetings in preparation for the event.

FACULTY

English department member Paul Eberhardt is deep in thought as he prepares lecture material in the faculty professional library.

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION

The central administration is the highest organ in the high school system. This group includes the superintendent, the board of education, and the directors of different departments. The central administration considers all the problems that affect Niles East and Niles West.

Dr. Clyde Parker
Superintendent

A MESSAGE From The SUPERINTENDENT:

The yearbook presents an image of the academic, social, and activity sides of a high school as it is envisioned by the students preparing it. Although the pictures, the names, and the narrative are important now, they will become more important as the years pass, and as the students take hold of life's responsibilities to family and society.

Through the years, the yearbook will not only become a keepsake, but in a true sense, it will become a memory book. The months and years move on, high school and commencement appear to be farther and farther away, but reflections on high school days will continue in the minds of graduates all their lives.

May these pages become golden pages of history. May they recall for many years the glorious springtime of life.

—Dr. Clyde Parker

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Dr. Stuart Anderson
Assistant Superintendent

Mr. Paul L. Houghton
Assistant Superintendent

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENTS

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION DIRECTORS:

Dr. Arthur H. Ryden
Director: Guidance and Testing

Dr. Ted C. Cobun
Director: Audio-visual Education

Mr. Harold R. Ohlson
Director: Research, Publications, and Community Relations

Mr. Orland Ruyle
Director: Adult Evening and Summer School

Mr. John Anderson
Buildings and Grounds Supervisor.

Standing: Mr. Clifford Herbst, Assistant Business Manager. Seated: Mr. Charles Coker, Business Manager.

PARENT-TEACHER ORGANIZATION

Parent-Teacher Association Officers: Standing; Mrs. Ely Tzinberg (1st V. Pres.), Mrs. Fred Bush (Treas.), Mrs. Victor Rasmussen (Corr. Sec.). Seated: Mrs. Philip Reifman (Pres.), Dr. Keith Kavanaugh. Absent: Dr. John Harris (2nd V. Pres.), Mrs. Robert Green (Rec. Sec.).

The Nilehi-East Parent-Teacher Association works to foster a closer relationship between the students, faculty and administration. PTA also acquaints parents with the school curriculum, extra-curricular activities, and school relations and calls their attention to the needs of the school. It gives parents an opportunity to evaluate and discuss the school program and services and to work with the students and school personal toward improvement. The Nile-A-Gram, the PTA newsletter, keeps both parents and teachers up to date on all PTA events. The refreshment stands at home football games are operated by parents through the PTA. Monthly "Coffee Chats" held at Niles provide an informal atmoshpere in which parents, faculty and administrative officials can discuss school issues. This year, as in the past, the PTA Open House proved to be a huge success.

EAST BOOSTERS' CLUB

Working along the same lines as the Parent-Teacher Association, the Boosters Club is also concerned with the welfare and interests of the Nilehi student, especially in the field of athletics. They also sponsor the athletic banquets which are held at the end of each season. Each spring the Boosters organize a Sports Spectacular featuring activities of the athletic department. These are just two of the many worth-while projects accomplished by the Niles East Boosters Club.

Niles East Boosters Club: Standing, Mr. Meyer Shearn (Pres.), Dr. J. Keith Kavanaugh (Principal), Mr. Marvin Ihne (Asst. Principal), Mr. Art Wittkamp (Treas.). Seated: Mr. Hy Perelgut, (V. Pres.), Mr. Orrin Wolf (Sect.).

EAST ADMINISTRATION

A MESSAGE From The PRINCIPAL:

Our American way of life is not an accident; it is the result of the faiths, of the hopes and aspirations, of the toil and sacrifice, of the imagination and ingenuity of our forebears. It is a great heritage. It is a heritage of promise——a promise to all individuals that as members of our society they may develop their talents to the utmost. Students of Nilehi, you are part of this great heritage. You are part of it because you have been formed by it and have assimilated the values and concepts of our history. You are part of it because even now and in the years to come, you will be developing, enlarging, and making our way of life more meaningful. We look to you to so bear your responsibilities as citizens that you will bring to our community and nation a better and more complete understanding of the meaning of democracy and a deeper and more complete appreciation of its tenets.

J. Keith Kavanaugh

ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS

Dr. John Harris
Assistant Principal

Mr. Marvin H. Ihne
Assistant Principal

ADMINISTRATIVE DIRECTORS

The efficiency with which our school operates is due to the farreaching capabilities of the Niles East Administration. By providing for the specific needs of the individual, the administration guides the student toward his future goal. Administrative assistance aids the student in his selection of the appropriate subjects and extra-curricular activities best suited to his abilities and future plans.

Although primarily concerned with the students, the administration also strives for better parent-teacher-student relations, for the administration feels that parent cooperation is an essential part of the school curriculum. To produce worthy American citizens is the administration's ultimate aim as it continues to develop new ideas and concepts in teaching skills and school organization.

Mr. Jack B. Spatafora
Student Activities Director

Mr. James Miller
Student Accounting Director

Dr. Kavanaugh discusses day to day administrative problems and coordinates the efforts of his staff in weekly administrative meetings in his office.

and service

A competent, inquiring and dedicated faculty is a school's greatest assurance that its students will enter the adult world as society's greatest asset - the educated individual. Nilehi's faculty continuously strengthens this assurance as its members each year open young eyes and excercise young minds as each student searches for meaning in our modern world.

Leo P. Babcock

Robert Mackey

The faculty, administration, supporting staff and students at Niles East wish to extend their warmest wishes for many happy years to come to Mr. Leo Babcock, who retired this year, and Mr. Robert Mackey, who retired at the conclusion of the 1961-62 school year.

Faculty member and varsity gymnastics coach John Ricitelli has just presented the Illinois Athletic Association's Second Place State Gymnastics Trophy to Jr. Keith Kavanaugh as the student body cheers at the Spring Awards Assembly.

SUPPORTING STAFFS

Administrative Secretaries: Standing, Mrs. June Schmitzer (Dr. Kavanaugh). Seated, Mrs. Sylvia Terman (Mr. Ihne). Absent: Mrs. Mary Vrablik (Dr. Harris).

Main Office Clerks: Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Alice Pazen, and Mrs. Gloria Schabilion.

Receptionists: Standing, Miss Janet Curtis. Seated: Mrs. Shirley Hodge.

What would Niles East do without the supporting staff? This special group of individuals includes the audio-visual, cafeteria, custodial, library, and office staffs. These staffs create a smooth functioning background for the activities of the school.

Records, tape-recorders, slides, and films are supervised by the audio-visual aids staff. The library staff aids the student in finding different materials for his research papers. The staff's everyday duty consists of checking library books in and out. Our cafeteria staff plans and prepares daily meals for over 3,000 students, teachers, and school personal. School maintenance is the responsibility of our ever-present and ever-ready custodial staff. Tasks from the preparation of the daily bulletin to student registration are the responsibility of the office staff.

East Central Office Business Representative: Miss Theresa Schweitzer

Audio-visual Clerk Miss Nathalie Young

IBM Clerks, Standing: Mrs. Garnet Faulkner. Seated: Mrs. Bernice Wilke.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The people. . .the places. . .the traditions. . .they all make up the pages in a yearbook, but the heart of the book and the final product itself can be attributed only to the following individuals and firms, whose able assistance and deep concern make this book the best possible.

To Mr. Theodore Beranis, general staff adviser, Mr. Jeff Josephson, senior staff adviser, and Mr. Marvin Ihne, administrative adviser, we say thank you for the devotion and guidance you gave us.

We are greatly indebted to the Norman King Company, publishers, and Root Studio Incorporated, photographers, whose technical assistance was invaluable in all aspects of the book.

Our deep appreciation goes to the members of the general and senior staffs. Without their work and enthusiasm, this book could never have been created.
